Andy Field is a Senior Lecturer in Psychology at The University of Sussex, U.K. where his success in making statistics accessible was recognized with a teaching award in 2001. "The Second Edition of Andy Field's Discovering Statistics Using SPSS is an excellent book and a valuable addition to the teaching of statistics in the behavioral sciences. The title of the book accurately reflects the approach taken. This is not simply a primer on how to use SPSS, but is a very good statistics text using SPSS as a vehicle for illustrating and expanding on the statistical content of the book. At the same time it also serves as a manual for SPSS, and has taught me things that I had not known about the software. I find this flexible approach to the blending of content and software to be an effective way of teaching the material. It is impossible to review this book without commenting on Andy's particular style. I enjoyed it immensely and think that it would appeal to both students and their instructors. It is refreshing to see someone who doesn't take himself too seriously." -- David C Howell, Professor Emeritus, University of Vermont

Our Common Agenda - Report of the Secretary-General United Nations 2021-09-10 On the seventy-fifth anniversary of the United Nations, the world has faced its biggest shared test since the Second World War in the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic. Yet while our welfare, and indeed the permanence of human life, depend on us working together, international cooperation has never been harder to achieve. This report answers a call from UN Member States to provide recommendations to advance our common agenda and to respond to current and future challenges. Its proposals are grounded in a renewal of the social contract, adapted to the challenges of this century, taking into account younger and future generations, complemented by a new global deal to better protect the global commons and deliver global public goods. Through a deepening of solidarity—at the national level, between generations, and in the multilateral system—Our Common Agenda provides a path forward to a greener, safer and better future.

Digital Stories Maia Engeli 2000 "This book starts out with the assumption that communication today is a "structural" component of society. Now more than ever, literally almost nothing can be generated without communication. This means that architects in general, and especially an increasingly greater number of specialists dealing with "communication design", must be more aware. The author carries out this search for awareness. He particularly highlights the structure of data, the medium of the screen, and the modes of language which use images, sequential and hypertext structures. Underlying the form of the various materials is the concept that communication also opens up a new "narrative" space in tune with a general interest in an architecture that reacquires multiple layers of meaning."--BOOK JACKET.Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America, Inc. All Rights Reserved
