Religion L. M. Barley 2014-06-28 This volume reviews the publicly available sources of statistical information on religion. The majority of this data relates to the Christian churches and is split between the serial or recurrent sources in the first review and the ad hoc survey data in the second. The third sets out the available Jewish data which comprise the best recorded and the most extensive of the sources in the non-Christian sector, and the final review brings together statistical sources on the remaining religions practised in the UK. This book will be an invaluable source of information for researchers and practitioners in the field.

The Art of Southern Africa Sandra Klopper 2007 The Art of Southern Africa provides important new insights into the historical processes and cultural contexts that informed the production of carving traditions in nineteenth- and early twentieth-century communities living in this region. It includes groundbreaking research on a variety of art forms, notably the style and iconography of headrests and the figurative works associated with initiation school, indigenous patrons, and new foreign markets. A collaborative project between the private collector, Terence Pethica, and authors Sandra Klopper and Anitra Nettleton, The Art of Southern Africa celebrates the artistry of ritual and household objects, while at the same time exploring the complex values and ideas expressed in and through them.

Our Common Agenda - Report of the Secretary-General United Nations

2021-09-10 On the seventy-fifth anniversary of the United Nations, the world has faced its biggest shared test since the Second World War in the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic. Yet while our welfare, and indeed the permanence of human life, depend on us working together, international cooperation has never been harder to achieve. This report answers a call from UN Member States to provide recommendations to advance our common agenda and to respond to current and future challenges. Its proposals are grounded in a renewal of the social contract, adapted to the challenges of this century, taking into account younger and future generations, complemented by a new global deal to better protect the global commons and deliver global public goods. Through a deepening of solidarity—at the national level, between generations, and in the multilateral system—Our Common Agenda provides a path forward to a greener, safer and better future.

Truth & Lies Jillian Edelstein 2001 "Jillian Edelstein spent four years travelling back and forth between London and South Africa attending hearings of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission up and down the country. What she brought back was a collective portrait of a country which, between the Sixties and the Nineties, was engaged in a vicious struggle in which thousands of people were abducted, tortured and killed. This book tells some of their stories. It is unique in that it puts faces to the personal testimonies of both victims and perpetrators. In the most direct way it documents one of the most important experiments in
