Guests on Earth Lee Smith 2014-05-13 "Reading Lee Smith ranks among the great pleasures of American fiction. Her work is evidence again of the grace and insight that distinguish her work." —Robert Stone, author of Death of the Blackbird
It's 1936 when orphaned thirteen-year-old Evalina Toussaint is admitted to Highland Hospital, a mental institution in Asheville, North Carolina, known for its innovative treatments for nervous disorders and addictions. Taken under the hospital's most notable patient, Zelda Fitzgerald, Evalina witnesses cascading events that lead up to the tragic fire of 1948 that killed nine women in a locked ward, Zelda among them. Author Lee Smith has created, through a seamless blending of fiction and fact, a mesmerizing novel about a world apart--in which art and madness are luminously intertwined.

That Winter Pamela Gillilan 1986 Pamela Gillilan was born in London in 1918, married in 1948 and moved to Cornwall in 1951. When she sat down to write her poem Come Away after the death of her husband David, she had written poetry for a quarter of a century. Then came a sequence of incredibly moving elegies. Other poems followed, and two years later, starting to write again, she won the Cheltenham Festival poetry competition. Her first collection That Winter (Bloomsbury, 1986) was shortlisted for the Commonwealth Poetry Prize.

Twelve Years a Slave Solomon Northup 2021-01-01 "Having been born a freeman, and for more than thirty years enjoying the blessings of liberty in a free State—and having at the end of that time been kidnapped and sold into Slavery, I have remained, until happily rescued in the month of January, 1853, after a bondage of twelve years—it has been suggested that an account of my life and fortunes would not be uninteresting to the public." -an excerpt from the book Intelligent Projects Using Python Samratu Pattanayak 2019-01-31 Implement machine learning and deep learning methodologies to build smart, cognitive AI projects using Python Key FeaturesA go-to guide to help you master machine learning algorithms and concepts8 real-world projects tackling different challenges in healthcare, e-commerce, and surveillanceUsing TensorFlow, Keras, and other Python libraries to implement smart AI applicationsBook Description This book will be your perfect companion if you want to build insightful projects from leading AI domains using Python. The book covers the implementation of projects from all the core disciplines of AI. We start by covering the basics of how to create intelligent systems using machine learning and deep learning techniques. You will assimilate various neural network architectures such as CNN, RNN, LSTM, to solve critical new world challenges. You will learn to train a model to detect diabetic retinopathy in the human eye and create an intelligent system for performing a video-to-text translation. You will use the transfer learning technique in the healthcare domain and implement style transfer using GANs. Later you will learn to build recommendation systems, a mobile app for sentiment analysis and a powerful chatbot for carrying customer service. You will implement AI techniques in the cybersecurity domain to generate Captchas. Later you will train and build autonomous vehicles to self-drive using reinforcement learning. You will be using libraries from the Python ecosystem such as TensorFlow, Keras and more to bring the core aspects of machine learning, deep learning, and AI. By the end of this book you will be skilled to build your own smart models for tackling any kind of AI problems without any hassle. What you will learnBuild an intelligent machine translation system using seq-2-seq neural translation machinesCreate AI applications using GAN and deploy smart mobile apps using TensorFlowTranslate videos into text using CNN and RNNImplement AI Chatbots, and integrate and extend them in several domainsCreate smart reinforcement, learning-based applications using Q-LearningBreak and generate CAPTCHA using Deep Learning and Adversarial Learning Who this book is for This book is intended for data scientists, machine learning professionals, and deep learning practitioners who are ready to put their knowledge and potential in AI. If you want to build real-life smart systems to play a crucial role in every core domain, then this book is what you need. Edifying Justice Paul Arthur Cassidy 2011-12-06 As the first volume of a multi-volume set, this short collection of essays entitled Edifying Justice: A Wellspring of Healing, describes the changes by which the Criminal Judicial System might be brought to the whole scope of justice effectively. With the Criminal Judicial System as its object of change, this collection of essays explores the logic and historical precedents behind the idea of complementing the Criminal Judicial System with a balancing judicial arm. It explains why the current judicial arm, though suitable to the task of investigating crime and dispensing punishment, is hardly suitable to the task of investigating civilness and dispensing reward nor to the task of adjudicating a certain category of offenses. While intended for a general audience, this collection of essays figuratively places readers in the role of jurists and legislators who are tasked to transform the abstract concept of a balanced and armed Criminal Judicial System into concrete action. Given how distant is the completion of that epic task, the immediate aim is to persuade readers to value the full scope of justice and to prize the fairer half.

The Open Water Swimmer Sabrina Devonshire 2013-01 When children's mystery writer Dana Thomas has recurring nightmares about a swimmer drowning in a race, she aims to change his fate. Beach MusicPat Conroy 2012-08-31 With the spectacular worldwide success of his unforgettable novel The Prince of Palestrina, Pat Conroy established himself as a major international writer. He is known for his anguished and painfully honest portraits of families and the human heart. He now returns with Beach Music, a story which tells of a family haunted by memories that reach back into the unutterable terrors of the Holocaust. Jack McCall, an American living in Rome, and his young daughter, is trying to find peace after the recent trauma of his wife's suicide. But his solitude is disturbed by the appearance of his sister-in-law, who begs him to return home, and of two school friends, who want his help in tracking down another classmate who went underground as a Vietman protester and never resurfaced. These requests launch a journey that encompasses the past and the present in both Europe and the American South: a quest that leads to shocking and ultimately liberating truths.

The Cambridge History of ModernismSherry 2017-01-11 The Cambridge History of Modernism is the first comprehensive history of modernism in the distinguished Cambridge Histories collection. It identifies a distinctive temperament of 'modernism' within the 'modern' period, establishing the circumstances of modernized life as the warrant for an art that becomes 'modernist' by virtue of its demonstrably self-conscious involvement in this modern condition. Following this sensibility from the end of the nineteenth century to the middle of the twentieth, tracking its manifestations across pan-European and transatlantic locations, the forty-three chapters offer a remarkable combination of breadth and focus. Prominent scholars of modernism provide analytical narratives of its literature, music, visual arts, architecture, philosophy, and science, offering circumstantial accounts of its diverse personnel in their many settings. The historically informed readings offer definitive accounts of the major work of twentieth-century cultural history and a new cornerstone for the study of modernism in the current century.

OysterMichael Pedersen 2017-09-01 'Michael Pedersen's poems get under my skin. As well as defining and codifying my own experiences, they also challenge them. And I always feel more upbeat and hopeful after having read them. You can't ask much more from a poet' - Irvine Welsh 'A cosmic, playful, weird and extravagant striptease of words from the genitals and tender hearts... I LOVE the fancy clothes one' - Charlotte Church Oyster is the second collection from the winning Edinburgh poet Michael Pedersen. From Grez-sur-Loing and festive nights to sizzling summers stretched across Meadows and Portobello, Michael Pedersen's unique brand of poetry captures a debauchery and a disputation of life narrated with an intense honesty and a love of language that is playful, powerful and penetrative; he vividly illuminates scenes with an energy that is both witty and humorous but also deeply intelligent. Oyster is iced, spiced, baked and served for your pleasure. Oyster features bespoke illustrations from Frightened Rabbit lead singer and songwriter Scott MacQuibban.

Help for the Haunted John Searles 2013-11-11 It begins with a call one snowy February night. Lying in her bed, four-year-old Sylvie Mason overhears her parents on the phone across the hall. This is not the first late-night call she has received, since her mother and father have an uncommon occupation: helping 'haunted souls' find peace. And yet in Sylvie senses that this call is different from the others, especially when they are lured to the old church on the edge of town. Once there, her parents disappear, one after the other, behind the church's red door, leaving Sylvie alone in the dark. Not long after, she drifts off to sleep, only to wake to the sound of gunfire. As the story weaves back and forth through the years leading up to that night and the months following, the ever-inquisitive Sylvie searched for answers and uncovered secrets that have haunted her family for years . . . Help for the Haunted is a psychological thriller that will keep you on the edge of your seat, told in the captivating voice of a young heroine who is determined to discover the truth about what happened that winter night.

The Carry On Films Steven Gerrard 2016-11-03 Saucy, rude and vulgar—the 31 Carry On films remain an important part of the history of British cinematic and low brow comedy. In this book, Gerrard discusses the Carry On roots in the tradition of the Victorians and the saucy seaside postcards of Donald McGill. Made in post-war Britain, these films reflect a remarkable period of social change as the British Empire faded and a nation learned to laugh at itself. Nothing was sacred to the Carry On team. James Bond and Cleopatra were mercilessly lampooned, Miss World competitions and toilet flushes came in for a cinematic pasting, while Sid James' laugh, Barbara Windsor's wiggle, Kenneth Williams' flared nostrils and Charles Hawtrey's "Oh, hello!" became synonymous with laughter, merriment and fun. Gerrard's work examines the Carry On films as part of a wider canvas linking both their heritage and tradition to the contextual world they mirrored. The Carry On Films is an essential read for Carry On fans the country through.

Batter Off Dead Daymee Bell 2018-12-11 When her catering event turns frosty, pastry chef-slash-amateur sleuth Sophia Cummings must solve a murder if she wants to earn her dough. Sophia Cummings may be unlucky in love, but she knows the way to a man's heart is through his sweet tooth. This evening, she plans to use that knowledge—and her skills as a New York City-trained pastry chef—to open the hearts and wallets of Rumford, Kentucky's richest men. Sophia, proprietor of Goodness Cakes, has been commissioned to cater the Heart of the Town Library charity fundraiser at Grape Valley. She's spent all her dough to make this a successful event, raise her profile, and win more plum catering jobs. At the end of the evening, going is as smooth as an elegant chocolate ganache. After nibbling Sophia's tasty treats, Ray Peel, the winery's owner, announces he will pay off Rumford's library loan. But the evening soon turns decidedly frosty when Ray is murdered. Sophia can't make good on his promise, and before he can pay Sophia for her catering services. For Goodness Cakes vends more than just authentic Southern recipes! Murder Spills the Tea Vicki Delany 2022-07-26 Lily Roberts pores over the clues in a piping hot new case when a confrontational celebrity chef is murdered at her Cape Cod tearoom during the filming of a popular baking show. Tea by the Sea mystery from national bestselling author Vicki Delany . . . The country's hottest TV cooking show is filming in Cape Cod. And against her better judgment, Lily Roberts is entering America Bakes! with her charming tearoom, Tea by the Sea! Filming is already proving disruptive, closing the tearoom during Lily's busiest season. But tensions really boil over when infamous bad-boy chef and celebrity judge, Tommy Greene, loses his temper with Lily's staff, resulting in a blowout with Cheryl Wainwright. Just as Lily thinks the competition can't get more bitter, Tommy is found dead in the tearoom's kitchen . . . murdered with Cheryl's rolling pin. Suspicion immediately falls on Cheryl, but the temperamentally volatile Lily is racked up plenty of culinary clashes in the past, both on- and off-screen. And nearly anyone associated with the show could be the killer: be it one of Lily's fierce competitors, a member of the beleaguered film crew, or even one of Tommy's fellow judges--struggling cookbook maven, Sophia D'Angelo or beauty contest winner, Scarlet McIntosh. While she's baking up a storm for the show, Lily must also whip up an impromptu investigation . . . before the murderer strikes someone else away.

A Teeny Bit of Trouble Michael Lee West 2013-01-29 It's not every day that I bake a dozen Red Velvet cakes, learn that my boyfriend may have a love child, and I witness a murder. After Charleston pastry chef, Teeny Templeton, witnesses she discovers that her lawyer-boyfriend, Coop O'Malley, has been keeping secrets: the victim's ten-year-old daughter is his child. As more lies explode, Teeny finds herself trapped in Bonaventure, Georgia, a zany "little Savannah," where she must deal with her commitment phobia, gather DNA from a ten-year old child genius, outwit a stalker, decode an ancient diary, and fend off advances of an ex-beau, a handsome plastic surgeon who's crazy-in-love with her. Teeny's life is maddeningly complicated by a series of not-so-teeny troubles: an uneasy love triangle, a gossip-mongering tarantula breeder, an wise-cracking Southern Belle with early Alzheimer's, Coop's loveable Chihuahua-toting granny, and clues that point to the illegal trafficking of human organs. But when a suspect is arrested, the bodies keep piling up and Teeny doesn't know who to trust. As the murderers close in, Teeny unearths a revelation that becomes a game-changer and flips the story upside-down. She's in for A Teeny Bit of Trouble.
